EMPIRE AND AFTER

Englishness in Postcolonial Perspective

Edited by Graham MacPhee
and Prem Poddar

Berghahn Books
New York • Oxford
CONTENTS

Acknowledgements vii

Introduction: Nationalism Beyond the Nation-State
Graham MacPhee & Prem Poddar 1

Part I: Nation & Empire

1. “As White As Ours”: Africa, Ireland, Imperial Panic, and the Effects of British Race Discourse
   Enda Duffy 25

2. Writing About Englishness: South Africa’s Forgotten Nationalism
   Vivian Bickford-Smith 57

3. Passports, Empire, Subjecthood
   Prem Poddar 73

4. Friends Across the Water: British Orientalists and Middle Eastern Nationalisms
   Geoffrey Nash 87

5. Under English Eyes: The Disappearance of Irishness in Conrad’s The Secret Agent
   Graham MacPhee 101

Part II: Postcolonial Legacies

   Sheila Ghose 121

7. Crisis of Identity? Englishness, Britishness, and Whiteness
   Bridget Byrne 139

8. Conserving Purity, Labouring the Past: A Tropological Evolution of Englishness
   Colin Wright 159

9. All the Downtown Tories: Mourning Englishness in New York
   Matthew Hart 181

Notes on Contributors 201
Index 203