Contents

Contributors page xi

Preface xiii

Introduction 1
Thomas A. Schwartz and Matthias Schulz

PART I. DISTURBING AMERICAN LEADERSHIP? DÉTENTE AND GERMAN OSTPOLITIK

1. U.S. Détente and West German Ostpolitik: Parallels and Frictions 23
Gottfried Niedhart

2. The Nixon Administration and West German Ostpolitik, 1969–1973 45
Bernd Schaefer

3. The Economics of Ostpolitik: West Germany, the United States, and the Gas Pipeline Deal 65
Werner D. Lippert

4. Odd Man Out? The CDU-CSU, Ostpolitik, and the Atlantic Alliance 83
Ronald J. Granieri

PART II. A WIDENING ATLANTIC? THE RELAUNCHING OF EUROPE AND THE COLLAPSE OF THE TRANSATLANTIC MONETARY ORDER

5. The Hague Summit of the European Community, Britain's Entry, and the New Atlantic Partnership, 1969–1970 105
Claudia Hiepel

6. Unraveling the Ties That Really Bind: The Dissolution of the Transatlantic Monetary Order and European Monetary Cooperation, 1965–1973 125
Hubert Zimmermann

7. Toward a "Community of Stability"? The Deutsche Mark between European and Atlantic Priorities, 1968–1973 145
William G. Gray

8. The Politics of Planes and Engines: Anglo-American Relations during the Rolls-Royce–Lockheed Crisis, 1970–1971 169
Raj Roy

PART III. REASSERTING U.S. LEADERSHIP? KISSINGER'S YEAR OF EUROPE AND BEYOND

9. Asserting Europe's Distinct Identity: The EC Nine and Kissinger's Year of Europe 195
Daniel Möckli

10. Kissinger's Year of Europe, Britain's Year of Choice 221
Alastair Noble

11. West Germany's Long Year of Europe: Bonn between Europe and the United States 237
Fabian Hilfrich

12. The United States, Western Europe, and the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe, 1972–1975 257
Sarah B. Snyder

PART IV. ALLIED VOICES, AMERICAN CHOICES: THE DEMISE OF DÉTENTE AND THE SEARCH FOR CONSENSUS

13. The Reluctant European: Helmut Schmidt, the European Community, and Transatlantic Relations 279
Matthias Schulz

14. The Quest for Leadership in a Time of Peace: Jimmy Carter and Western Europe, 1977–1981 309
Joe Renouard and D. Nathan Vigil

15. The United States, Europe, and the NATO Dual-Track Decision 333
Joachim Scholtyseck

PART V. EPILOGUE

The Superpower and the Union in the Making: U.S.-European Relations, 1969–1980 355
Matthias Schulz and Thomas A. Schwartz

Index 375