offshoring can be reversed, whether it is possible to bring about

I am very grateful for discussions with many colleagues on these various themes, including especially the late Horst Schmidt. Spec-sific thanks for comments on individual sections with Sarah Beck-lake, Thomas Batchelor, Monika Bischof, Lynne Geltrus, Rachel Cooper, Dublin Dienes, Anthony Ellis, James Penington, Biana Freire-Medeiros, James Freund, Tony Giddens, Michael Holme, Glenn Lyons, Scott Lash, James Marion, Katerina Parkkou, Satya Savitakya, Mimi Sheller, Elizabeth Shove, David Suga man, Ben Szerzynski, John Thompson, David Tyfield, Tom Urry, Sylvia Walby and Renzo Werlen. I am especially grateful for collaboration with colleagues in the Centre for Mobilities Research at Lancaster and, in particular, Penny Drinkall. Thanks also for comments from anonymous referees.

Some research reported in this book was supported by ESRC (projects: "The CAMELS Project: The Changing Geographies of Mobility in the Low-Carbon Economy" and "The Changing Geographies of Mobility in the Low-Carbon Economy"), and
